Pradeep (Executive)

Pradeep is a 5th year student who is also an executive in the MCSS club. He is an extremely motivated and exuberant executive who is always thinking about how to improve and bring new people to the club.

Pradeep is often described as a great leader mainly due to his dedication to this club. As one of the main leaders of this club, he actively participates in every MCSS event and is often regarded as helpful and passionate by his peers. Because he lives on campus, he's usually readily available to help direct and plan any events.

Being a returning student from a one year internship at Amazon, Pradeep has gained plenty of experience and expertise in software development. He is pursuing a career as a software engineer after he graduates.

Steven (Student)

Steven is a 21 year old 3rd year Computer Science specialist. He is an enthusiastic and outgoing person who is especially passionate about the field he is in.

He is an extremely skilled web developer who specializes mostly on the backend part of the development process. He is currently self isolating at home because of the virus but his day is spent playing League of Legends and working on side projects. He is also very active on devpost since he is always on the lookout for any new hackathons he can participate in.

His dream goal is to work for Alibaba as a software development engineer so he took CSC301 to get some experience and knowledge about how to be a good software engineer.
